FORD'S COMING OUT
FOR "CAL" RELIEVES
BOTH OLD PARTIES

Flivver Manufacturer Takes Direct Action, Which Heads Off All Possibility of Rift.

STRONG FOR "CAL" IS AN UGLY CHARGE

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 19. (INS.)—Henry Ford declared for Calvin Coolidge for President today and knocked into a cocked hat the efforts of both his Democratic and third party friends to send him to the White House. In his statement backing Coolidge, Ford declared that 90 per cent of the people feel perfectly safe with Coolidge and that "I would never for a moment think of running against Calvin Coolidge for President on any ticket whatever."

"I believe it is the wise and natural thing for the people to agree on the nomination and election of President Coolidge," said Ford. "I am satisfied that 90 per cent of the people feel perfectly safe with Coolidge and I am sure that the country is perfectly safe with him. And if this is the feeling of the country, why change?"

"Some people seem to be disturbed by the conditions which business will face during the presidential election. There is no reason why business should be disturbed by it, if the people by common consent agree that they will hold to a good man who they have him. Public sentiment can be so formed long before the election that there need be no doubt about the election."

"The fact of Ford's announcement is a matter the third party men assert they would hold their national convention next month and nominate Ford despite his own wishes."

Comment on Move
A series of outstanding figures in both the Republican and Democratic parties failed to disclose any one today who did not profess "satisfaction" with the Ford announcement. The agreement was general in every quarter that Ford's announcement has magnificently cleared the muddled political waters and insured a 1924 campaign fought out on straight old party lines.

Friends of President Coolidge were jubilant. They pointed out that Ford's announcement not only removes a possible opponent for the Republican nomination but that it also will have a powerful effect in throwing the so-called "Ford following" into the Coolidge ranks.

Premier Democrats accepted the Ford announcement with equanimity and declared that with the "Ford threat" now removed from party pawns, they can go ahead confident that a real Democrat will bear the standard in 1924. The Democrats were quick, too, to deny that Ford was "driven" by any votes to President Coolidge. Senator King, Democrat of Utah, declared Ford's announcement would not "affect 10,000 votes," Senator Hedin, Democrat of Alabama, said "Ford as a candidate would be 10,000 times more powerful than he will be in trying to put some one else over."

Barriers of Senator Hiram Johnson, the only avowed opponent of President Coolidge for the nomination, professed to be entirely satisfied with the new alignment, as did the California Senator himself.

They declared that Ford's strength was located principally in the west and south, and that he cannot transfer this strength to President Coolidge. Consequently, they claimed a great deal of the "agricultural and progressive" vote of the west which Ford could have commanded for his own candidacy will now become the heritage of Senator Johnson.

The supporters of Senator Robert M. La Follette, Republican of Wisconsin, made claims similar to those of the Johnsonites. With Ford out of the way, they declared, the insurgent Wisconsin senator can go into the southwest where political discontent is most pronounced, and capitalize it to the utmost. They predicted that La Follette can show up at Cleveland next June with at least four states "in his pocket" if he chooses—Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana.

SNYDER SAYS GOV.
PINCHOT HAS COST
STATE $750,000

Disputes the Governor's Claim That He Saves Over $40,000 Per Day Under New System.

IS AN UGLY CHARGE

Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 20.—State Treasurer Snyder today challenged Governor Pinchot to prove his reported assertions in New York that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has been saving $40,000 a day during his administration.

Snyder asserted that the Treasury statements showed the present administration has added three quarters of a million dollars to the state's expenses that never existed before.

This is made up, he said, of $250,000 each to the general pay roll, the highway patrol payroll and for general increases in salaries.

Snyder picked three situations in the State Government upon which to center his attack on the Governor in his statement today.

Concerning the incident with Dr. Donohue, state librarian, replaced by Miss Anna McDonald, his assistant, the Treasurer says that Governor Pinchot either "has no knowledge of the code or he usurps every power in the Commonwealth according to his own personal views."

Snyder alleges that information, which he claims has been confirmed, points to a serious misuse in the pardoning power in promising state police executive clemency if convicted of violation of the law in prosecution of the enforcement act.

"Secret surveillances" was the term used by Snyder to describe methods of dismissing state employees whom he announced that all ten employees dismissed under the order of the Governor recently for "disloyalty" would be reinstated by the Treasurer under leave of absence.

Snyder threatens to halt the State Police by refusing to pay warrants for their salaries after January 1st. "Working without state authority," Snyder said of the constabulary, "it has lost that high sense of duty to the public, and I believe has affected the moral integrity of the force."

C. & I. Petitions I. C. C.
For Authority To Extend
Its Lines To Newer Field

Washington, D. C. Dec. 20.—The Cambria and Indiana Railroad of Pennsylvania today petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to construct a new line from Revloc to Cambria, a distance of five miles. The new road would open for development 75,000,000 tons of coal, the application said.

Little Paul Jones second son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. S. Jones, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia for the last three weeks at the home of Geo. D. Adray of Curwensville, was brought to his home on Nichols street Tuesday.

McAdoo following was second only to that of the Coolidge camp. The McAdoo managers privately declared that by removing himself from all Democratic consideration Mr. Ford has removed also the only real contender the former secretary of the treasury had for the democratic sentiment for Ford existed in the west, and that this sentiment will now have no where else to go but to McAdoo.

"This takes the wraps off entirely so far as McAdoo is concerned," said a Democratic senator who is closely identified with the McAdoo campaign. "From now on we can go into every state with a clear conscience and no fears of stepping on any one's toes."

Washington, D. C. Dec. 20.—The Senate Commerce Committee reported unanimously today to report against the nomination of Edward T. Karley, of Chicago, as Chairman of the United States Shipping Board.

Washington, D. C. Dec. 20.—
A tentative route for the navy dirigible, Shenandoah's flight across the United States to Alaska on its way to the north pole next summer, has been fixed by the Naval Board, planning the flight, it was learned today.

This route calls for a flight from Lake Hurst to Fort Worth, Texas without a stop, then to San Diego, California and from there to Seattle.

CORONER'S INQUEST
FINISHES ITS WORK

Coroner Follum and the jury he selected on Monday last met in the Arbitration Room of the Court House at 11 o'clock today. They called but one witness in the person of Sheriff Thomas J. Lowell to complete their inquiry, after which all the evidence was summed up by Coroner Follum and a verdict arrived upon to the effect that Jasper Stafford came to his death on the night of December 15th, at a point on the east side of the concrete culvert crossing the Clearfield-Woodland road at the property of the Clearfield Sewer Pipe Works from gunshot wounds caused by shots fired from a revolver in the hands of one Sam Nichols.

Nichols, who gave himself up to the local police Tuesday night last, has been placed in the county jail.

His story of the shooting as he detailed it to a Progress reporter Wednesday morning in the lockup is not generally believed, as it fails to square with many of the facts surrounding the killing now in the possession of the authorities.

CEDAR FOREST AT CURWENSVILLE
GREATLY ENLARGED

Masons of Curwensville and vicinity are strong believers in conservation measures and they believe that the timber situation is acute enough to warrant the taking of decisive and drastic measures. Accordingly, instead of planting the seed and waiting for the tree to mature, they go out into the mountain fastnesses of nearby villages and countryside and from there they procure poor, bent, weak and undernourished saplings and carry them to the forest reserve known as Keystone Forest No. 93, where they spray, prune and otherwise treat them until they become unbending, straight and healthy.

Keystone Forest has a body of Rangers who know their job as experts and in their labors last evening they performed both minor and major operations on about thirty-five saplings, all of which were successful. Following the ceremonial a wonderful banquet was provided in the Sunday school room of the Presbyterian Church. Tall Cedars know what those Presbyterian sappers are at Curwensville and Keystone Forest will continue to have a big attendance as long as the Presbyterian ladies furnish the provender for the woodmen.

Episcopal Combatants
Consider Policy Which Is Sane And Sensible

New York, Dec. 20.—A wide spread effort to avert further publicity in connection with the differences between the Fundamentalists and Modernists in the Protestant Episcopal church appeared under way here today.

Believing the danger of a split in the church will be increased by continuous open discussions of the question, leaders of both sides were adopting more moderate language and emphasizing the necessity of harmony.

Dr. Leighton Parks, whose sermon last Sunday was given much publicity, gave out a statement in which he disclaimed any intention to defy deliberately either Bishop Manning or the Episcopal Church concerning belief in the virgin birth of Christ. Dr. Parks regrets the publicity which has attended the controversy and seems to feel there will be no danger he will be called to trial for heresy.

22 Nations
Reduce War
Budgets

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Geneva (By mail to United Press)—At least 22 of the leading nations of the world have, during the past two years reduced their military, naval and aerial budgets.

During the coming two years an even greater reduction is now assured.

The League of Nations has just issued a summary statistics from all of the principal Leagueurs on the status of their armament budgets up to the end of the current fiscal year.

The statistics show that as a matter of fact at least 22 nations not only have not increased their armament budgets during the past two years, but have actually brought about reductions.

England makes the best showing, as her 1921-22 armament budgets of 202,000,000 pounds have been brought down to 132,000,000 pounds for the 1923-24 period.

France has also made a most serious reduction in armament budgets. France's national defense expenditure in 1922 was 6,998,000,000 francs, while the national defense budget as voted for 1923 is only 5,373,000,000 francs.

In Holland the total defense expenditure has fallen from 119,000,000 florins in 1921 to 105,000,000 florins in 1923.

TOWN CO-OPERATES
WONDERFULLY WITH
J. B. T. ON ITS IDEA OF A COMMUNITY TREE

The Junior Board of Trade, that organization of thirty Clearfield youths, under the direction of Community Service, is going to make it possible to have a community Christmas tree in Clearfield. The J. B. T. which is constantly thinking up worth while things to do for Clearfield, started the movement for a community Christmas tree a couple of weeks ago and the idea was quickly taken up by all Clearfield business men acquainted with the purpose and plan.

When approached on the matter, James McPherson, the Montgomery farmer, promptly donated the finest tree to be found in all his broad 500 acres of woodland. The H. & C. Telephone Company, through Manager "Pop" Wilson, agreed to get the tree and put it up in front of the Court House; Bill Wrigley provided the fixtures and equipment with which to light it up, while the Penn Public Service Company, through Supt. Al Pearce, agreed to furnish the "juice" with which to light it.

The tree was erected this afternoon and the J. B. T. has assumed the burden of trimming it, but will accept the assistance of all who desire to help in the work.

The tree will be lighted up nightly and remain up until after New Years. An interesting program has been arranged for the week between Christmas and New Years and there will be something doing every night.

Christmas evening at 5 o'clock the choir of the West Side Methodist Episcopal Church will give a concert under the tree.

Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock St. Francis High School Glee Club will sing.

Thursday evening at 7:30 the choir of St. John's English Lutheran Church will give a program.

Friday evening at 7:30 the choir of the Presbyterian Church will do the honors and like programs are being worked out for the different evenings and including New Years eve.

The Junior Board of Trade will hold their regular semi-annual meeting at the Hotel Jordan this evening. One of the leaders of Community Service from New York City will be present and address the boys.

Misses Dorothy Dimeling, Bernice Anderson and Lenore Eiper returned today from Goucher College, Baltimore, Mr. to spend Christmas with their parents.

John Martin, Jr., of Pittsburgh, is spending some time with his parents here.

Completion Of All Primary
Route Roads In County Is Assured Within Three YearsCONCERNING THOSE COUNTY HOME CALVES
MENTIONED IN THE LAST REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY

The report of the last Grand Jury contained the following statement:

"Since March 1st, eight veal calves have left the County Farm and Steward claims no record of price received for them or that payment was made. He only makes report to Controller each month of the number taken away. He has record of some other money turned over to County Treasurer for work done, and for hogs, meat, hides, and junk sold. We understand that the calves have all gone to one meat market and in checking with County Treasurer no record is found of any payment for calves so far during the year 1923. We would recommend that some better system be adopted for record of products of the farm leaving the property, and that this record be kept at the County Home and that no trading of veal calves for meat, or any other such transactions be permitted but that the business be handled by sale and purchase, prices being shown in the record. We would also recommend that the matter be followed up to ascertain whether or not proper payment has been made for the eight veal calves and if any products of the farm are leaving without proper credit to the county. It is our opinion that the veal should be used in the County Home."

It was learned that the Grand Jury in this statement had in mind the butcher shop of Earl Weimer, son of County Commissioner T. R. Weimer, who was re-elected at the recent November election to succeed himself. The matter was taken up with Commissioner Weimer who said his first intention that even one calf had gone from the County Home farm. His son's butcher shop came when he read the Grand Jury's report. He then immediately began an investigation into the matter and learned from his son and Steward McMullen at the Home that not eight but six calves had been sold by Steward McMullen to Earl Weimer. The dates the calves were taken away were March 16th, April 6th, April 20th, May 11th, May 25th, and November 16th. Each time a calf was removed from the farm by Butcher Weimer a price for same was agreed upon and a return of the transaction made by Steward McMullen to the County Controller, who receives all such claims and keeps record of such, instead of same being received and posted in the County Commissioners' office, as was the case previous to the creation of the office of County Controller. Hence the transaction was honest and above-board throughout, so far as Earl Weimer and Steward McMullen at the Home were concerned, while County Commissioner Weimer had nothing to do with the transaction one way or the other, and as a matter of fact, as already stated, knew nothing at all about it until he read the reference to the calves in the report of the December Grand Jury.

We took this matter up with T. R. Weimer and Earl Weimer and have stated the facts as they gave them, the dates, etc., being copied from Earl Weimer's books, and print this article for the purpose of putting them right before the people of the county by correcting any false impression regarding these transactions those with but the one side of the case of County Controller. Hence

KLAN ORGANIZER IS CHASED OUT OF
CHESTER COUNTY

Wilmington, Del., Dec. 20.—Dr. J. H. Hawkins, Klan organizer and representative of the Imperial Palace, and his wife arrived in Wilmington today after being chased twenty miles by angry Klan opponents. The pursuing parties fired a score of shots at the Hawkins motor car, which is scarred by bullets.

The chase followed a riot at Kimmsville, near West Chester, Penn., where Hawkins spoke.

Hawkins sharply criticized a religious denomination which is opposed by the Klan. Cries of "Haw" arose from the rear of the hall.

When members of the Klan made efforts to quell the disturbance, about fifty men left the hall, carrying the doors from the hinges on the way out.

As soon as the meeting was over, Hawkins and his wife hurried into a waiting automobile. They had just started to Wilmington where they were attacked. The automobile sped away, pursued by a number of men who began firing at it. A number of shots struck the car.

McCARTNEY HOTEL
MAN ACCUSED OF WHISKY SELLING

George Armstrong, proprietor of the hotel at McCartney, this county, is alleged to have taken that most popular short cut to wealth and affluence by surreptitiously, but dexterously trading pints of moonshine to the "bone and sinew" of Jordan and adjoining townships for two or three dollars each in coin of the realm.

Like all bootleggers the genial George overreached himself, and according to Sheriff Lowell sold not wisely but once, too often, when he disposed of a pint to an emissary of the Sheriff, who made the purchase for the purpose and in the interest of law enforcement. This sale was made along about the first of the week and yesterday morning Sheriff Lowell, with State Troopers Barber and Pearce, armed with a search warrant, dropped in on George.

A search of the back bar in Armstrong's bar room resulted in the finding of two bottles of whiskey and a quantity of beer. A slot machine was also found in the bar room and this too, was confiscated and smashed and an additional charge of operating a gambling device lodged against the hotel proprietor, who was taken before Squire J. C. F. Snyder, at Bearman where he entered bail for his appearance at court on both charges.

Roy Hayes, chairman of the Boys' Work Committee, was in charge of the meeting and kept things moving along nicely. He asked for a report from the committee in charge of Christmas activities for the kiddies of the town and Chairman George Zerfoss reported that all arrangements had been made for the Christmas tree and treat for the children which will be staged at the Driggs Theatre at 10 o'clock Christmas morning. ROUTE 62 CERTAIN

Plans Are Also Laid By Which Clearfield Will Be Connected Up With Pittsburgh Same Time.

IS SOME FINE NEWS

Hon. John B. Fisher, of Indiana, one of the original "good roads" men in this section, who had been asked by his friend John C. Ferry, Esq., to come to Clearfield last evening for the purpose of delivering a "good roads" speech to the Clearfield Rotary Club, Mr. Fisher declined the invitation for the very good reason that he was scheduled to attend a conference at Harrisburg participated in by Secretary Wright of the State Highway Department, Senators W. I. Bates, of Clearfield; J. O. Clark, of Indiana county, and Stinson, of Cambria county, together with other prominent citizens of the western end of the state interested in getting this section of Pennsylvania out of the mud, regardless of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce and its activities.

The conference was held, Mr. Fisher was present and so satisfactory was the understanding with the Highway Department that Senator Fisher was able to get to Clearfield in time to attend last night's meeting of Rotary, and when called upon got a rousing hand from the Rotarians and their guests when he announced that State Highway Secretary Wright had assured the conference at Harrisburg that this section of Pennsylvania would be taken out of the mud for keeps by the completion within the coming three years of every foot of primary road in this region.

Mr. Fisher said Secretary Wright told the conference that $40,000,000 of the recently voted $80,000,000 bond money would be used to build the remaining unfinished primary or county-and-county road in the state, and that the sum would complete all such roads and allow $10,000,000 for 50-50 secondary roads in the different counties.

This means, the Secretary said, according to Senator Fisher, that Route 62, the road leading from Curwensville through Lumber City to Harrisburg or Dover Junction would be completed within the three-year building program, but the Secretary said he was not able at this time to say just when the start would be made on this road. Mr. Wright further assured the conference that the connecting road through Indiana county, a contract for a part of which was let the past week, would all be connected up and a line of improved road completed connecting Clearfield and Pittsburgh by the most direct and shortest route between the two points.

Senator Fisher assured his hearers that he was not generalizing but was talking "brass tacks" and the roads would actually be built and all completed by the end of 1926. The knowledge was gratefully received by all present and the Senator got a hearty burst of applause at the conclusion of his very welcome information.

Roy Hayes, chairman of the Boys' Work Committee, was in charge of the meeting and kept things moving along nicely. He asked for a report from the committee in charge of Christmas activities for the kiddies of the town and Chairman George Zerfoss reported that all arrangements had been made for the Christmas tree and treat for the children which will be staged at the Driggs Theatre at 10 o'clock Christmas morning. A. and told of what had been accomplished and what they were ready and anxious to do for the boys of Clearfield. He asked for the aid and co-operation of Rotary and promised every assistance in boys' work.

THE CHRISTIAN LIGHT

The beautiful story, "The Christmas Light" will be given next Tuesday evening, in the form of a play, in the Presbyterian church.

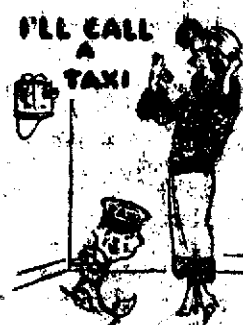

Those who saw the play given last year will recall the beauty and simplicity of it. This year it will be just as beautiful, if not more so. There will be no Santa Claus or anything else to detract from the proper meaning of the day.

It is a beautiful story of the time of Christ, given to make more real the true spirit of the season.

SYKESVILLE ALL "HET" UP OVER SUICIDE BURIAL

Piquette, Dec. 19.—To add to the excitement attending the burial of Mike Biegh, World War veteran, whose body was found in the woods near Sykesville and buried in the Greek Catholic cemetery at Sykesville despite the protests of the Greek Catholic Priest, Father Shacklick, the Kn Klox Klan fired off two heavy blasts of dynamite last night and set two gigantic crosses blazing. The citizens of the town are in a furor and little sleep was obtained following the dynamite blasts. Whether the crosses were burned as a threat or the effect on the general run of Sykesville folks is such that nothing else is being discussed there.

The threats of Father Shacklick to arrest Rev. Foster and Rev. Shingler, who have not materialized as these men were in no way to blame for their part in the ceremony.

John Bolak, the grave digger for cemetery and William Dukovitch, a friend of the family, who insisted that the body of the dead soldier be interred there because of the mother's earnest wishes, were arrested. Members of the Lester Phillip Post of the American Legion, Lloyd Kriner, Commander upon the arrest of Bolak and Dukovitch, took up the work, finished the digging and lowered the casket into the grave.

The attention of Father Shacklick has been transferred to the American Legion Post, and it is probable that the Post will be indicted on a trespassing charge.

So far nothing new has developed in the matter so far as any arrests are concerned, but American Legion officials of Sykesville, are momentarily expecting a summons.

No hearings have been held to date.

ODDS AND ENDS
AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Marjory speaking, and while it may be true that it is a sin to steal a potato, you can't convince a Clearfield county jury that a woman is guilty of larceny when she enters a cemetery and transfers a bouquet of flowers from another grave to that of her mother.

At least the jury in the case of Mrs. Lizzie Zimmerman, which was tried in Judge Bell's court Monday night, showed by their verdict that they were of that opinion.

Mr. Zimmerman was prosecuted by Alfred Martin, caretaker of the cemetery. He alleged that Zimmerman entered the cemetery and while tending up the grave of her mother, and having no flowers, simply transferred a bouquet from a grave in an adjoining lot that of her mother, and was found to have broken a rose or off a bush growing nearby for purpose of beautifying her mother's grave.

The heart of a cemetery caretaker may be and no doubt is more or lessalous to sentiment and accordingly when this heinous crime came to the attention of Caretaker Martin he very promptly invoked the substantial aid of the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to bring the alleged larceny to justice.

Information was made before a justice of the peace, who returned the case for trial and it was reached on the list yesterday. The prosecution was in the hands of Acting District Attorney Brown, while W. C. Miller, Esq., represented the defendant. When the jury returned its verdict of "not guilty," Billy Fehl, one of the spectators in court, alleges he saw the figure representing Justice on the wall back of the judge's bench raise the blindfold off one eye and wink at the foreman as he announced the verdict.

Everybody A Friend Of The Salvation Army In This Day Of Great Work

A friend of the Salvation Army clipped the following tribute to the army out of a recent issue of the Philadelphia Public Ledger and asked that we publish it in the Progress:

Help the Army

There is one army that none wants to see demobilized—and that is the Salvation Army. It is an army that leaves in its wake not demotion and despair, but faces shining with new hope and gratitude. It heals and blesses; it goes on errands as almoner for society to the stricken membership of the social order; its ways are those of healing and humanity and constructive kindness. It translates into action those generous impulses which with most of us too often begin and end in mere pious aspiration.

In these teeming hours of holiday bustle and preparation, when all of us are more or less concerned with the thought of what other people want, the Salvation Army is asking something, not for itself, but for the poor and hopeless, whom it has taken for its peculiar charge. It wants the funds in hand that it may take Christmas baskets to the door of many who could look for no such gift. It can do no more than it has the means to do. Let those who would make a sure investment that will yield an overflowing return in happiness, respond and at once, to the plea the Army makes in behalf of the voiceless. Those who put their gifts in the hands of this agency of cheer and hope may be sure that in the Christmas spirit of good will their purpose is fulfilled.—Public Ledger.

Opportunity to help the Army and by doing so thereby help dispense needed charity throughout this community is found on the street corners about the "Diamond" where Christmas collectors are stationed. Be charitable by dropping a dollar in the slot when next you pass one of these collectors. It will be money well spent as the Salvation Army is preparing and will distribute 125 baskets containing a full Christmas dinner with all the trimmings to homes where very little other Christmas cheer would enter.

RAT IS THE WORST
DISEASE CARRIER
KNOWN IN WORLD

"The rat is the worst disease carrier with which the Pasteur laboratories have to contend," according to Charles J. Chapman, who is connected with the Columbus, Ohio, Pasteur laboratory. He stated that the fly carries typhoid, the mosquito carries yellow fever, but that the rat carries several diseases.

"Lack of interest in the destruction of rats in past years has caused the rat problem to assume the aspect of a menace. Each pair of rats will breed from 60 to 120 each year unless the families get together in the different communities and organize to drive out the rats, the entire country may soon be faced with a critical situation in the prevention of diseases," Mr. Chapman stated.

"Co-operation between the different communities coupled with the inventive genius of man is all that is necessary to destroy the rats in a short time," he said.

"When you kill a rat you are not only removing one of the chief enemies of health, but you are also destroying an animal that each year destroys vast amounts of property. Losses of property due to rats runs into hundreds of millions each year," he added.

"The best time of the year to start the battle against the rats is at the present time, just as they are going into winter quarters," he said, "for by waiting until spring there will be a much larger number to destroy. Waiting and lack of interest and combined effort is responsible for the existing rat problem of today."

Progress Editorial For Women

TOO MANY THINGS
By FLORENCE DAVIES

Suppose that none of us had any fixed income or salary, but just the general understanding with out employer that we could have anything we want.

What a running to the shops there would be! Some of us wouldn't even stop to go. We would telephone, "Send up one room size Persian rug, one baby grand piano, one Sheraton desk, one new winter overcoat for husband, one silk coat for self," and so on indefinitely.

Perhaps a good many of us would order up new houses and just begin all over again to furnish them and ourselves with good and beautiful things.

But after we got that done, one of two things would happen. Either we would form the habit of spending, practically devoting our lives to it, as some wealthy people do, or, being relieved from financial worry, we would throw ourselves afresh into our work, and spending would become more or less incidental.

The second way was chosen by the late Charles P. Steinmetz, world famous electrical engineer.

It seems that he had no fixed salary. His work was so valuable that the company for which he worked finally just told him to spend whatever he wanted to, and he drew on the company at will.

And this is what he said about it: "Why should I ask a fixed salary for my services? Man wants but little here below—But he never knows how little till he finds he can have everything that he wants."

Of course, there was a reason why Steinmetz wanted as little as he did. He had no family of his own to whom he was anxious to leave a large estate, and his first interest lay in his work.

And work, not mere drudgery, but some constructive, creative work, the planning and doing of some worthwhile job, whether it be raising a family or manufacturing steel, is the best antidote for this great hunger for possession which some of us have developed.

The people who make a life-work of accumulating things are largely of two classes, empty-headed women who devote themselves to the accumulation of clothes and luxurious trifles, and wealthy men who have finished their life work and haven't much else to do.

If you want to admit that you're in the retired, millionaire class, the class of men who have pulled out of active life and are making a business of collecting beautiful things, then you will let this hunger for possessions dominate you. But if you still have a real work to do, you'll find, with Mr. Steinmetz, that the number of things you want is comparatively small.

ONLY CAMP IN THIS REGION TO GET A BEAR

To the Gum Swamp camp, which is to the left of the McGeorge road in the direction of Stone Run, goes the distinction of having killed a bear this season. In addition to the bear, which was a handsome specimen weighing nearly two hundred pounds, the valiant hunters got five fine deer. The Gum Swamp party is composed principally of Grampian men with the addition of Curt Davis of Ramey and his two sons, Elisha Jr., and Alton C., both of Clearfield.

Unmuffled.
Another million machines along the landscape and we shall have to begin to refer to it as the great open exhaust country.—Newcastle Courier.MRS. MCCLELLAN ROWLES
PASSES AWAY

Mrs. McClellan Rowles, a highly respected resident of the Third Ward for many years, passed away at her home on Hannah street last evening at 9:10 o'clock. Mrs. Rowles had been in failing health for more than a year, but death came suddenly last evening. She is survived by her husband and eight children.

The funeral will be held from her late home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Her pastor, Rev. E. Roy Hauser, of St. John's English Lutheran Church, will officiate, while interment will be in Pine Grove cemetery. Obituary later.

Catharine Waterworth is spending Christmas with her parents.

Curwensville's Own Column

Ruth Fullerton, of Clearfield, was a Curwensville visitor yesterday, having some business matters to transact relative to the Bloomington avenue homestead sale, and also to visit her aged mother, who makes her home with a son, Jos. G. Fullerton.

It is reported, and it must be true, that Roy Strickland has sold his kennel of blooded dogs to a party at Warren, Pa., receiving the sum of $1,000 for them. He has also contracted to remove to Warren and act as trainer. It is a mighty good opening for "Strick." We hate to lose Curwensville a first class citizen.

John P. Irvin and Miss Mary Wright attended the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Marjorie Irvin, at Clearfield, today.

The Progress is under the obligation to John Kelly for the large gift of a big slice of venison. It was the first titbit of wild animal that has ever tasted in our lives and it was all to the good. May he kill his hump of deer each year.

Mrs. Elizabeth McClellan and Mrs. Spackman, two Clearfield ladies, were callers at the home of Mrs. Fred Bloom, South Side, yesterday.

Cora Virginia, a little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ardary, Bloomington avenue, was taken to Clearfield hospital on Monday and was operated on for appendicitis. The little one withstood the ordeal well and is getting along nicely from last report.

A 4-month-old child was buried from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Day yesterday. It was an adopted child and a few weeks ago was taken to New York state for a visit, contracting pneumonia, which caused her death.

Ruth Frankhouser, one of the teachers in the public schools, will spend the next two weeks in her southern home.

Keystone Forest, No. 93, which was organized in this place last June, met at the Presbyterian Church last evening. The Tall Cedars of Lebanon, the title by which they are known in Masonic circles, held a meeting in a convenient room during the early part of the evening, and a large class of new members was initiated into the mysteries of this degree. The supper started at 10:30 o'clock and continued until midnight. The McKinley orchestra had been engaged to furnish music for the occasion and it did that very thing greatly to the pleasure of all.

Tonight will witness another epoch in social circles to add to the long list which is to follow during the Christmas holidays. The occasion will be the annual football banquet at the Park House. Prof. Norris will be the speaker, which means that there will be fun galore. The entertainment will be plentiful and no doubt will be enjoyed by the more than half hundred persons who will be in attendance.

At a meeting of Rescue Hose and Ladder Co., Monday night the following officers were duly elected: Chief, G. L. Benner; 1st Asst. Foreman, W. A. Bopp; 2nd Asst. Foreman, J. W. Moore; 3rd Asst. Foreman, V. H. Brown; President, Dewey Hummel; Vice Pres. Samuel F. Williams; Sec. & H. Brown, Asst. Sec., Wm. Frankhouser, Treas., Jerry McNaull; Trustees, J. W. Chas. Sweeney; 2 yr. J. C. Gales; 1 yr. Alex. Frankhouser. A banquet will follow the first Monday evening in January.

The Last Passenger
As the train used to tell this story of a man illustrating the racial differences between the Jew, the Greek and the American. Such a story had so much to do with the matter. The Jew said to himself: "I have it." The Greek whispered: "I have it." The American, on the other hand, said: "You had it."

MARIETTA WOMAN DIES AT HOME OF DAUGHTER

Mrs. Mary A. Griel Sultzbach, who had been staying with her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Aughinbaugh, for some time, passed away at the Aughinbaugh home on South Second street, at 10 o'clock last evening, as the result of an attack of pneumonia, aged about 79 years.

The deceased, who was the daughter of Jacob Griel, member of one of Lancaster county's pioneer families, was born and raised in Lancaster, but resided in Marietta, Pa., for many years. She was taken sick on Saturday last. She is survived by three sons and two daughters, as follows: Fred, of Philadelphia; Harry, of Lancaster; Edward, of Morrisville, Pa.; Mrs. A. M. Thatcher, of Lancaster, and Mrs. Thomas Aughinbaugh, of Clearfield. The remains will be taken to the Sultzbach home in Marietta, Pa., tomorrow, and the funeral will be held there.

Sud. use Eat Lizards and Ants.
Natives of the Sudan who now number about 3,000,000, subsist chiefly on a diet of ants, lizards, insects, and such animals as lizards, in some parts of their land the finest cotton in the world is raised. An English party recently made a 2,000 mile trip across the Sudan to Beldien Camp, and among other things discovered that the population has doubled in the last twenty years, while the big game of the country is rapidly disappearing from the jungle with the advance of even primitive settlements.

Dr. Finley Heads National Child Welfare

New York—Dr. John H. Finley, noted educator and journalist, has just been elected President of the National Child Welfare Association at 70 Fifth Avenue, New York, of which Herbert Hoover is Vice-President and Amos L. Prescott, Treasurer. Dr. Finley is deeply interested in the welfare of "all the children of all the people."

In his latest book, "The Debt Eternal," he tells of a memorable day when he had presided over a meeting of the great ones of the earth. As I came to my home," he says, "dressed in my academic robes, with a hood of brilliant color about my shoulders, three or four little boys playing near the door looked so in awe. At last one of them, 'was John's father.' So at the end of all this day of glory, I was the father of my five year old boy. It is that great multitude whom he represents to the who are soon to pass this earth."

It is for the sake of this "great multitude" of children all over America that Dr. Finley is allying himself with the work of the National Child Welfare Association. Speaking of his recent election to the Presidency of the Association, Dr. Finley said, "My special interest in the work of the National Child Welfare Association lies in the fact that it has a big vision and has devised a practical method of making that vision real. Its vision is of the whole education of the whole child, in its educational material, health training, its never divorced from character training, but the gaining of a healthy body is not only a first step in the making of an alert, trained mind and a sterling character. It is following the dictum of Montaigne, 'We have not to train up a soul, nor yet a body, but a man, and we cannot divide him.'"

Realizing Its Vision

The practical method by which the Association is realizing its vision of a healthier, more intelligent, finer generation is that of visual education, lectures, exhibits and community organization. From all over the country, indeed from all over the world, visitors and letters come to the National Child Welfare Association asking for advice on every possible aspect of the child's physical, to tell how she is using the Association's posters to teach the children, and their parents, too, to brush their teeth, and asking whether there are other posters that will back up her teaching regarding fresh air. "Sometimes it is a deeply concerned group of women who want advice on how to start a child welfare home in their middle west town. Sometimes it is a librarian who needs some pictures to brighten the walls and to stimulate better reading habits in her little library in Maine. Or perhaps the head of a Children's Home wants some posters that will make the indifferent public realize what the Home is doing and lend it their support."

"The National Child Welfare Association is itself partly supported by private contributions, thus being enabled in every case to give its advice and aid freely and to provide its educational posters at cost, serving and co-operating not merely with the health agencies, but with every agency which, in any way, touches the physical, mental or moral life of the child."

The Church of God and World Peace

by The Reverend S. Parkes Coleman, D. D.

It is well understood that what Gospels, nor yet believed it to be practicable. Yet the monstrous insanity of armed violence is patent to Christians and non-Christians alike. Christian civilization is greatly indebted to Will Irwin for his volume, "Christ or Mars?" The author needs no prompting. His style shows the man to an unusual degree. It is challenging, provocative, direct, vivid, and penetrated by the quiet pervasiveness which outlasts stormy invocations. He starts out to prove that the war has gone beyond all compasses of stages, and is diametrically opposed to the Christianity of Christ.

The issue is raised in such a complete manner that evasion is impossible. Stripped of hereditary instincts, the combative element has to rely upon its native merit or demerit. Nor can a Christian avoid the conclusion that the time is ripe for radical readjustment upon this disputed point. Here, then, is a book which illuminates the debate, which shows what is really religious and feasible, and which rears a barrier between our race and the abyss of destruction.

Race, creed, color, distance, are all too prevalent in the conceptions of ally responsible, and call themselves Christians. It would seem as if

CARE OF VETERANS' CHILDREN

Government Bureau Will Co-Operate With Legion in Plan for Attention to Dependents.

Full co-operation of the children's bureau of the United States Department of Labor will be extended to the American Legion in the plan for care of dependent children of World War veterans. This assistance to the program of the Legion on a problem which Legion leaders believe will eventually approximate care of disabled, will be rendered in every possible way, according to Miss Grace Abbott, chief of the children's bureau, in charge of welfare work for the government.

Miss Abbott has clearly outlined to George A. Withers, chairman of the Legion's national committee on children's homes, her ideas of what the veterans' organization should undertake in this work. In the first place, Miss Abbott says that every effort should be bent toward keeping the children of the Legion whose fathers have died, or are incapacitated, with their mothers or near relatives who are willing and competent to care for them. Miss Abbott declares that in the past it has been a common practice to "take away" children from the remaining parents if means are insufficient to care for the dependents. Usually, according to child welfare workers, this operates adversely, causing a double loss to the child. Sometimes a mother is allowed to struggle on under a load obviously too great for her shoulders, and the family becomes demoralized—sometimes delinquent. Here, thinks Miss Abbott, is where the Legion posts may help in this portion of the problem by friendly help and care, and by lending assistance in the schooling.

Miss Abbott says that father homes are generally regarded as better than institutional, if children must be taken from their parents or relatives. "Such an institution," declared Miss Abbott to Chairman Withers, "should be a last resort after every effort has been made to keep the family together, rather than the beginning of a program. If you could get every post to report to the state department, and in turn to report to national headquarters as to the success in caring and providing for these children, helping families to remain together, in finding ways of providing scholarships for the education of the children etc., then finally as to the institutional care which may be necessary, I think you would make sure that the Legion children were having the right kind of opportunity for home life, for special care, if physically defective in any way, and for education, which is their right."

The government welfare worker holds that members of the Legion who are to handle this vital problem for its members should be named from the ablest men in the organization, and that they should approach the question as one which is certain to require diligent study, great expenditure of time, and much patience and ingenuity.

LONG FIGHT WON BY LEGION

Federal Judge Killits Holds Foreign-Born Objectors Not Entitled to Citizenship.

Foreign-born men who had conscientious objections against serving in the United States military and were exempted have been denied citizenship by Federal Judge John M. Killits of Toledo, Ohio. This matter has been the subject of a long and bitter fight by members of the American Legion throughout the country, and officials of the Veterans' organization were well pleased with the action denying to such men the rights of citizenship.

Judge Killits, in his opinion, declared that the court was unable to see how any applicant, who, on the grounds of conscience, objected to bearing arms in his country's defense, can take the oath of citizenship without reservations and that he, as the court, was unwilling to accept any such oath with reservations.

"Without any intention to reflect upon the quality of the profession of conscientious objectors," declared Judge Killits, "we feel that it is enough that the country must endure the native born of the birthright without extending the number by the favor of the naturalization laws."

Many posts of the Legion have fought against granting of citizenship rights to such applicants since the close of the war, and, in a number of cases, the fight has been successful. The Toledo instance, however, is believed to be the first decision of a federal court in the matter.

Ohio Is in Lead.

Ohio leads all other states in the number of local volumes of La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux, the "playground of the Legion," though only one-half of the state is organized. The department now has 45 volumes, with Iowa second with 37, Illinois third with 36, Pennsylvania fourth with 31, and New York fifth with 28. The largest volume of La Societe is in Los Angeles county, California, where the local membership is 316. Polk county, Iowa (Des Moines), is second with 214; Linn county, Iowa (Cedar Rapids), third with 208, and Cook county, Illinois (Chicago), with 204 is fourth. These are the only volumes which number a membership of over 200. Membership in La Societe is based on activities in the organization of the American Legion, and is selective.

GIVE MOTHER SOME OF THIS Beautiful Silverware

She, more than anyone else you might give something, will appreciate the beauty of this wonderful Silverware we have for her. There are several different sets which she would appreciate—something with just a few pieces or something which will include everything necessary to set the table for six or more folks.

Then, too, the bride who is starting in to furnish that little home will also appreciate such a gift as this. She will have many years to use the set and each time she uses it she will have kindly remembrances of the person making the gift.

Of course, if whoever you are planning on giving a gift, has started a set, we have something among the many patterns which will fit into her scheme of house furnishing.

WILL ATTRACT LEGION MEN

Pretty Girls to Help Entertain Visitors Attending National Convention at San Francisco.

When San Francisco opens its gates to the 100,000 members of the American Legion expected to be present at the fifth annual convention, some of the nation's prettiest girls will be ready to show the "doughboy" and "rob" visitors about the city. An official committee, composed of the city's select matrons and debutantes, has been named to work in conjunction with the convention committee and will act as hostesses to sponsor the many affairs to be held for the men and women who will attend the convention.

Special entertainment has been arranged for the women of the American Legion auxiliary and other women guests by the committee of the city's select matrons. Banquets and dinner dances will be tendered the guests while the Legion men are busy with convention matters. Hostesses at these affairs will include national leaders and workers of the auxiliary and women prominent in Legion affairs in addition to the local reception committee.

Mrs. Alfred Carlier, wife of a Belgian war veteran and a former war worker in army uniform herself, is expected to return from New York to assist in entertaining the Legion men during their stay in her native city. Mrs. Carlier will have charge of several important social affairs during the week of the convention. Other San Francisco women have promised to take charge of a number of "entertainments" to be established throughout the city in order to assist in providing food for the visitors.

The popularity of canteen workers is well known during the war, and it is likely that the average Legion man has forgotten them since his return to civil life. As a consequence, a "canteen" is likely to be found popping over the counter of one of these places, talking to some pretty San Francisco girls.

MANY POSTS SEEK TROPHIES

Legion Organizations Display Great Interest in Honors to Be Awarded at National Meeting.

Competition for membership is keen among departments of the American Legion this year, due to the plan to present national trophies and awards to the departments making the best showings before the fifth annual national convention in San Francisco this fall.

Legionnaires will strive for two principal trophies—the Hanford MacNider and the Franklin D. Roosevelt trophies. The department that has the highest percentage of members as compared with the membership total for the year 1922 will win the MacNider trophy, which is presented by the Iowa department. The Georgia department has this cup at the New Orleans convention and is leading in the race this year.

The 1923 trophy has not yet been awarded, as it was first announced at the New Orleans convention. The department obtaining as members the highest percentage of eligible ex-servicemen in the state will receive this trophy, the gift of the Pennsylvania department.

The trophies will not remain the permanent property of departments, but will be turned over each year. A gold plate will be awarded to each department winning a trophy. This will be attached to be attached to the department's banner, which will hang in a room in the honor room. There will be presented each year a letter of commendation per cent membership, honor plate to each department and a letter of commendation per cent membership, in addition to the two trophies and their plates.

Scots Fought Potatoes. When the potato was first introduced into Scotland it met with much opposition. Sermons were preached against it, in which it was declared that, as the potato was not mentioned in the Bible, it must be unfit for Christians to eat. It was even described by one divine as being the forbidden fruit which had caused the fall of Adam.

STOP BUILDING AIR CRAFT

American Legion to Recommend International Disarmament Conference—Conduct National Referendum.

An international air disarmament conference to stop the present air construction race will be recommended by the American Legion, which will conduct a national referendum to obtain the views of prominent Americans as to the advisability of such a conference.

All members of congress, governors of all states, 1,000 editors, 100 college presidents and a number of prominent citizens will be asked by the Legion to express an opinion on the proposal which would involve the holding of a meeting in Washington, similar to the naval disarmament conference, to be attended by representatives of all leading world powers for the purpose of reaching some agreement as to the number of fighting and observation planes to be maintained by each.

If the opinion of the national leaders is favorable to the Legion's project, President Coolidge will be asked to call an international conference. A necessity for immediate action in the matter of limitation of air armament exists since France took the lead in an air-construction program, and the remaining European powers have entered the mad race to overtake the French. France at the present time has 140 squadrons of the military machines and plans to have 220 at the end of 1925. The planes will carry 75 millimeter cannons and will also be used to transport six machine guns and their crews. The planes include machines which will serve as actual troops of the air.

England is the nearest competitor, having appropriated $27,500,000 to enlarge her air armada. It has been estimated that by 1928 England will be able to send aloft only 624 battle machines in comparison with France's 1,530 air fighters. Italy and Russia have actively entered the race, the latter planning to have 10,000 planes in operation.

A statement issued recently by National Commander Alvin Owsley calls attention to the fact that naval and land forces have been reduced by national agreement and that the Legion proposes to attempt to obtain similar measures governing aircraft.

"The crying need of the world today is peace—industrial, commercial, economic peace—a restoration from the ravages and horrors of war, a settling down and getting back to the sane pursuits of industry, quietude of heart and mind, to live in safe seclusion away from the covetousness of the invader," the statement reads.

"Can we of the Legion who were their comrades in arms not ask the nations to pause, and see what they are doing? Preparedness in a larger sense means a temptation to use that which is being prepared to fight. The wounds of the last titanic trouble are still gaping open; the life blood of the nations is still pouring out because of too much preparedness for battle.

"I propose to the world preparedness for peace—a coming together in a great world conference for the limitation of airplanes for war instead of war to destruction. I challenge the right of any nation to prepare any instrument of destruction and claim the name of defender of world peace. Peace will come when the people of the world will to have peace and express their will in solemn declaration and covenant sealed with honor.

"America is ready to lead the way to secure peace in the air and she has gone far by example to make war impossible on land and sea."

DRAWING CLOSER TO LEGION

Public is More Interested in Members of Organization, Commander Owsley Believes.

The American public is drawing closer to the American Legion in the opinion of Alvin Owsley, Legion national commander, who has recently completed a speaking tour which carried him into eight states, Cuba and Panama.

"I believe the people are more interested in the question of disabled veterans obtaining 'ramble hospitals' and sanatoriums for the sick and wounded than they ever were before," he said. "They are beginning to understand that the first duty of the United States is to care for these defenders."

Commander Owsley said that the stand of the Legion for exclusion of immigrants and in opposition to those who preach radical doctrines had found immediate response.

Other Legion policies which were met with favor by the public, he said, were the stand for a universal draft act, under which capital and labor and all the resources of America would be called for national defense; support of the action of the French and Belgian troops in occupying the Ruhr, and war on profiteers.

Declaring that the Legion members are rising to responsible positions in the state and nation, Commander Owsley pointed out that three governors, four lieutenant-governors, four United States senators and more than thirty members of the lower house in the congress are members of the Legion.
